Reading

Throughout the month of January we will continue to explore good reading habits. The students are reading Level B/C books. We are moving the students from using the pictures to read, to using our super powers such as, looking at the initial sound (first letter) in words to read the word with the help of the pictures. It is extremely important that you study sight words with your child. These are the anchor words for success in both reading and writing.

Writing

In writing, we will focus on stretching/sounding out words and writing the sounds we hear. (prk = park) We are continuing to use our sight words in our writing. We are writing stories that are easy to read. In doing so students will leave a space between words, begin a sentence with a capital letter, and using punctuation at the end of a sentence.

Math

We will continue working with numbers from 0 to 19. Our focus is on one-to-one correspondence, identify sets with the same number, more (greater than), fewer (less than), and simple addition.

Phonics

Starfall.com and Hubbard's Cupboard are free websites that will encourage your child to practice their letters/sounds and read sight word books.
